December 2017,

Dear friends and fellow members,

What a ride! This year has been a rollercoaster of highs and lows in the Association. I will say that my fellow members have definitely kept me on my toes. We have made strides in keeping ADDC viable and relevant to future generations. We have done our best to keep the best of our history while embracing the promise of tomorrow.

I have learned so much about our members this year. Many of you have opened my eyes to a plethora of ideas. It has been a remarkable journey, but I am not done yet. I will continue giving my all to members, and make myself available to all. I plan on being part of ADDC as long as I still have breath.

2017 wasn't about me though, this has been a journey about us. I stated last year, that my ideas for the year would be "Our past goals reimaged." The 2017 Board did a lot of reimaging this year. Some members welcomed the reimaging with open arms, others, well, everyone has their own opinions. Like many these days, we have been faced with a downsizing in our numbers, resulting in lower income. Though we have and are continuing to cut expenses, we must investigate additional revenue sources. I have faith that Christina and the 2018 board will thoroughly investigate that avenue. In order for our great organization to survive we must continue to reimagine. What worked for Inez decades ago, will not necessarily work today. Just as we have found that unleaded fuel is better for our vehicles, we must get the lead out of our thinking of how our organization works.

I know the 2018 Board of Directors will face many challenges during the coming year. I also know that we will be able to face it head on as we did in 2017. I must make one personal request. There will be issues we all won't agree on, there will be changes we must make. No matter your thoughts or reactions, please remember we are professionals. Keep it professional. React to the issue, not to those presenting it. Be passionate, but be polite. Listen to understand, not just to react. Remember that if you point a finger at someone that there are three fingers pointing back at you. We must always lift each other up, so that we all may keep moving forward.

I want to thank the 2017 Board for their hard work and dedication. We have worked together as a team, and I am proud of that. I must thank Sheryl Minear whose advice, guidance, and occasional "Now Maggi's," kept us on track this year. I want to thank Mark Loch, Wayne Ammons and Linda Rodgers for the many hours they gave to the Association, even at the wee hours of the morning, working around my crazy schedules. I must thank Evelyn Green and the 2017 GAC for providing us with an outstanding convention, and for their endless hours of hard work. I must thank all those great ladies who have come before me, and laid out the path I was to follow. I want to encourage

Lastly, thank you, my fellow members for changing my life, for inspiring me time and time again, and for helping me become the woman I am today. I would have never envisioned myself as a leader of so many great men and women. I have each and every one of you to thank for that.

In closing, at this most joyous time of year, I wish you and your families the Merriest of Christmases and wish you all the promise the New Year has to bring. I will leave you with a quote that has inspired my life.

"I will honor Christmas in my heart, and try to keep it all the year. I will live in the Past, the Present and the Future. The Spirit of all Three shall strive within me. I will not shut out the lessons that they teach" – Ebenezer Scrooge - Charles Dickens

Dear Region III Members:

Can you believe it? This is my very last letter as Region Director. It has been a very busy year and I hope everyone was able to take a break to enjoy the Thanksgiving Holiday. This year has been not just an educational year for me, but one of many wonderful experiences and memories. I want to say to Maggi, our ADDC President, and to the ADDC board how much I have enjoyed working with them. Maggi, I appreciate and admire your leadership, professionalism, and friendship this year. You have done a wonderful job and I want to say thank you for being willing to lead us this year. Congratulations to Carol Schiavone, 2018 Region Director, Keith Atkins, 2018 Vice President, the 2018 ADDC Board and all of the Region III Club Presidents. I know each of you will do an outstanding job of leading us next year.

Be sure to check out our Region III Website. Any information, pictures, activities, and important dates that you want to share with other members, then be sure to send it to Wayne so he can put it on the website. Also, I want to encourage members to submit entries to the Contest Committee Chairman, Casi Nichols. Her address is 263655 E County Road 45, Ringwood, OK, 73768. The deadline to submit entries is December 15, 2017. For more details and specific information, then you can find it on the ADDC Website.

Carol is needing a few more volunteers to serve as Region III reps, so I want to encourage each of you to step out of your comfort zone and volunteer to serve in this capacity. It is a truly rewarding and educational experience.

Thank you again to the members of Region III for allowing me the privilege of serving as your Director this year! You have made my year as Director one of the best experiences of my life and it truly has been an honor for me to have served in this position.

This Christmas Season I hope everyone remembers that Jesus is the Real reason for the Season and to be sure to keep Christ in Christmas!

Have a Very Blessed and Merry Christmas!!
As well as a Happy and Prosperous New Year!!

December 2017

Dear Lafayette Members,

The time has come for me to say goodbye and I don't know where to begin... This year has been an unforgettable one. I have learned to be more patient, to be more open-minded and to practice a middle ground perspective. I am still so grateful that this club has continuously been supportive of my efforts as President this year and I thank you for that.

A huge thank you to the Board of Directors and Committee Chairmen. It was your hard work and dedication that made this year run so smoothly. Thank you to the new members who have stepped up and did an outstanding job. My wish is for you to continue to be involved in this organization and spread your knowledge into other committees as well as our Board and even one day our Association.

Now is the time to turn in your membership renewal forms and 2018 dues. Your form and $75 dues are to be turned into our Treasurer, Angela Cutrera.

Our December meeting on the 20th will be one not to miss! We will have a fun gift exchange where you purchase a $15 item to be "wrapped" in a sock.

Congratulations to our new 2018 Board of Directors! I know with Kathy Martin leading us in 2018 she will continue the growth of our club and keep us progressing positively.

Have you signed up to chair a committee next year? Now's your chance to challenge yourself and try something you never thought you could do. Don't ever forget....you can do this too!

We each possess what it takes to stand at that podium. It is because of the support, mentorship and "push" that others give us that allows our confidence to blossom into the professional members we are.

Merry Christmas and Happy New year!

Sarah B. Hulin

"Life lessons have been learned this year from each and every member. Thank you for being a part of my personal blessing."

New Member Spotlight

Name: Charlotte Bordelon

Company: Stone Energy Corporation

Position: Treasury Analyst

Where do you like to go to have fun? My fun consists of viewing unique scenery while traveling, spending quality time with my family and friends, trying out a few Pinterest craft ideas, attending DJ shows, bowling, and watching comedies.

What is one thing that people may be surprised to know about you? One of my nicknames is DJ Chardizzle and during my spare time, I actually enjoy creating my own music mixes. It usually takes a lot of time and patience to create a mix, but I use them for either working out or hanging out with my close friends. A few years ago, I created a mix for a birthday party my friend was having for her little girl. I uploaded it to my SoundCloud website, shared the link with a few close friends, and somehow my Kid's Party Mix now has over 16,800 plays from people all around the world.

What is your favorite thing about your current position or job? I really enjoy all the opportunities that Stone Energy has provided me with through my accounting internship as well as my full-time positions of a Revenue Accountant and now Treasury Analyst. My favorite thing about my current position, Treasury Analyst, is that I get to hold the responsibility of assisting in maintaining cash flow and liquidity for the entire corporation. Having the opportunity to manage daily cash transactions and initiate various types of payments broadens my knowledge in understanding everything that needs to take place in order for a corporation to operate in an effective manner.

What made you choose to join the Desk and Derrick Club of Lafayette? I chose to join the Desk and Derrick Club of Lafayette to continue developing my professional career. I heard a lot of members talk about how Desk and Derrick would allow me to gain access to fun filled resources while also broadening my professional network. I feel that there is absolutely nothing like being able to learn new things, meet new people, and share laughs while doing it all! I am currently on a long-term journey to one day achieve my goal of becoming a CFO, so I know that becoming a part of professional organizations like Desk and Derrick will help me continue strengthening my career in order to make this dream possible.

The Oil and Gas Industry's The Good, The Bad and The Ugly

Don Briggs, President of the Louisiana Oil and Gas Association

The Good, The Bad and The Ugly – this 1966 Spaghetti Western is a staple in the career of Clint Eastwood and in the heart of many young men growing up in the late 60s. Just reading the title of this film, I can hear that iconic theme music and picture the tense standoff as the camera pans from glare to glare as The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly anticipate each other's first reach for their guns in the closing scene. Looking at the characters and how they interact in the film, you could draw parallels to Louisiana's oil and gas industry.

Eastwood played "The Good" character that had no name, only the nickname "Blondie," was given. He has no past, no backstory and had very little to say. Blondie was a strong individual with a callous exterior, often found with a cigar in his mouth. From the unpleasant stare on Blondie, you could see that he meant one thing and that was business. The same could be said for the successful businessman and our Commander in Chief, Donald Trump. He has increased our industries hope by rescinding executive orders made by the Obama administration, filled his presidential cabinet with individuals that recognize the value of our industry, and has made American energy dominance a priority. However, one way that Blondie and President Trump differ is that Blondie never had much to stay, and Trump is never at a loss for words.

Now let's take a look at "The Ugly," skipping the "The Bad" for now. "The Ugly" was a Mexican bandit named Tuco. Tuco was wanted in at least 14 counties, had no regard for the law, and was driven by an unquenchable thirst for gold. Tuco's lust for gold put him into some difficult circumstances, which could also be said for OPEC as well. Previously, OPEC, in an attempt to destroy the United State's competitiveness, flooded the market and oil prices. This move put our nation and Louisiana in some very tight financial times. Oil and gas companies were going out of business, but OPEC couldn't survive these low prices forever. OPEC's move was short sited and severely underestimated the strength of America's oil and gas industry.

Earlier this year OPEC, agreed on production cuts, which created a lack of supply in the market, and prices increased briefly. The advancement in American shale production allowed the U.S. to fill the void created by OPEC, but the price of oil saw little change. Currently, Russia and OPEC are looking at initiatives to clear global oil glut but cutting out. Now, as best written by a Bloomberg headline, OPEC wakes up to the threat of U.S. shale 2.0. As OPEC continues to try and manipulate the market, the U.S. continues to assert its oil and gas prowess.

The last character in this trifecta is "Angel Eyes" who plays "The Bad" role. He is quite possibly the most dangerous character in the film and strives to use the mantle of authority for his own personal gain. Angel Eyes was a hitman-for-hire whose only loyalty was to those that pay. This issue of paid loyalty is currently plaguing Louisiana's oil and gas industry.

The most prominent threat to Louisiana's oil and gas industry lies within our state's capital city. When we look at the biggest hurdle facing the industry, it is our own Governor. The only loyalty he has shown has been to that of the copious amount of trial lawyers that backed his run for Governor. Who falls prey to this loyalty? The people of Louisiana. His lack of loyalty to his constituency has destroyed our business climate and continues to provide Louisiana with nicknames like "Worst-Run State in America," "Worst Legal System in American," and a "Judicial Hellhole."

This oil and gas version of this classic western is still playing out and far from over. One thing holds true, as we pursue energy dominance just as Blondie, Tuco, and Angel Eyes sought their grave of gold, the opportunity is within arm's reach. We must ensure that steps are taken to assert Louisiana as a major oil and gas player.

With new refinery manager, four women now leading ExxonMobil Louisiana operations

The ExxonMobil Baton Rouge refinery will have its first-ever female manager at the start of the new year when Gloria Moncada takes on the role, which will add yet another woman to the top ranks of ExxonMobil's Louisiana facilities.

Moncada—who returns to the Baton Rouge refinery where she began her career in 1992 as an engineer—will replace Mark Northcutt, who ran the facility for five years. The Baton Rouge refinery is the fourth largest in the nation with more than 3,700 employees and contractors.

“Out of our five major ExxonMobil Baton Rouge facilities and the ExxonMobil Pipeline Company's southeast operations, we now have four women in top leadership roles: new Refinery Manager Gloria Moncada, Polyolefins Plant Manager Angela Zeringue, Plastics Plant Manager Jennifer Dunphy and ExxonMobil Pipeline Company Southeast Area Manager Shonta Greenwood,” says spokesperson Stephanie Cargile.

Having four women leading operations in Louisiana is a remarkable step forward for the state, ExxonMobil and the traditionally male-dominated oil and gas industry. As demonstrated by its current leaders “whose faces and minds reflect a variety of cultures, races, perspectives and experiences,” ExxonMobil is committed to diversity and inclusion, Moncada says in a statement.

“I'm keenly appreciative of all who have worked to move the industry forward,” she says. “There is still more work to do, and I'm committed to doing my part to carry the torch forward to help all employees reach their highest potential.”

Moncada, a Philadelphia native, has worked at several refineries throughout her career at ExxonMobil. Most recently, she served as manager of ExxonMobil Americas Crude Optimization in Spring, Texas. Moncada also held leadership positions at facilities in California and Singapore, where she was the refinery process division manager.

As the daughter of Italian immigrants and wife of a Colombian immigrant, Moncada says she and her family were raised to work hard, and focus on family and building relationships.

“I believe those principles gave me the honor of experiencing several firsts—from being the first college graduate in my family to now being the first female manager of the Baton Rouge refinery,” she says.

Moncada begins her new role on Jan. 1. Meanwhile, Northcutt will transfer to Houston as the new manager of U.S. South Fuels at ExxonMobil Fuels and Lubricants Company. While in Baton Rouge, Northcutt championed the North Baton Rouge Industrial Training Initiative and served on the boards of the Baton Rouge Area Chamber, Louisiana Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association and the Louisiana Chemical Industry Association.

In addition to the four facilities and pipeline company managed by women, ExxonMobil has a chemical plant and Port Allen Lubricants plant, which are managed by men.

8 Tips to a Stress Free Holiday Season

It's the beginning of the holiday season and with the holidays comes stress. Each year we feel a mix of joy and anxiety when we approach the days before holidays. The holidays can bring stress starting in November and go straight through until the new year. We experience a combination of stressors related to financial costs of the holidays, family coming to stay and the conflicts it may bring, and the stress of trying to have the perfect meal and holiday all together. If you're one of those people who feel the pressure of the holidays, here are 8 tips to help feel balanced, happy and stress-free:

Remember what the holidays are really about- spending quality time with family, friends and loved ones. It's about giving love and joy to others. Watch your expectation; make sure they are realistic. We try for perfection during the holidays and we tend to forget what the holidays are really about. Remind yourself that the holidays are about being close to your loved ones while everything else comes second.

Take care of you; during the busy holiday season, we forget about ourselves.

We worry so much about setting a nice table; buying and cooking the food; decorating the house; buying the presents; etc., we forget to take a time out and spend some quiet time alone. Yes, it's the season of giving to others, but make sure to put yourself on your priority list and put yourself high up on the list. If we aren't feeling mentally, physically and emotionally healthy, how we will be able to have a good holiday? The more time you put aside for you, the healthier and happier you will feel this holiday season.

Seasonal disorder- this is just another issue that can affect people during this stressful time. If you know that the cold weather and shorter days affect you and cause you to have negative moods, then do some preventive work. Talk to your doctor about options, seek to counsel before the change of weather and holidays start, set up a support system to help when you're feeling down, invest in light boxes and plan a vacation to a warm destination (this will give you something to look forward to).

8 Tips to a Stress Free Holiday Season (cont'd)

Start early- before the holiday season is in full swing, start making your things-to-do lists, start your holiday shopping early this way when the holidays approach you're not scrambling for presents. Buy wrapping paper, holiday's cards, etc. Wrap your gifts as you buy them. Be proactive. Having a lot done ahead of time is a huge stress relief and then you will enjoy going out for any last minute things knowing that the bulk of it is complete.

Ask for help- there is no reason why you have to do everything on your own. Delegate this holiday season. Ask each person who is coming to prepare a dish or a dessert. Make your holidays, not about the cooking but more about the socializing. If everyone brings a dish this will make your shopping and cooking much easier. Don't feel guilty about it. Each year have everyone make it a point to help each other so everyone can enjoy the holidays. This can also be a great way to clean up after the holidays. Delegate the clean up from the dishes to vacuuming the house. If everyone chips in, it won't be so bad.

Be upfront financially- tell family and friends what you can and can't do early on. If you know this will be a tough financial holiday season, then recommend other options such as: buying for the kids only, a grab bag, the charity option (everyone gives to a charity - whatever they can afford) instead of a gift, play a fun game like Yankee Swap where everyone buys one gift (set a value for it), or learn from our children - homemade gifts!

Gratitude- this is the time of year that we should spend more time counting our blessings, remembering what we have instead of worrying about what we don't. Instead of "Keeping up with the Jones's," take a minute to appreciate the abundance of love, health, family, and friends. Teach your kids about abundance. They should know that the most important things in life are the things that make us the happiest: good relationships with family and friends, a partner we can share our life with and a full schedule of social activities that involve lots of smiling and laughing.

Watch the signs- listen to your body. If you are noticing any of the following signs then it's time to make changes:

- Change in sleeping habits
- Change in eating habits
- Feeling irritable, moody and unhappy
- Exhaustion and fatigue
- Panic attack symptoms like dizziness, heavy chest, heart racing, headache, feeling nauseous, hot and cold flashes
- Physical signs such as headaches, stomachaches, joint pain and low immune system (catching frequent colds and illnesses).

These symptoms are all warning signs of too much stress and anxiety in our life. This is a sign to slow down and take a time out.

Recipe of the Month

Best-Ever Chewy Gingerbread Cookies

Ingredients

- 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons unsalted butter, softened
- 1 cup packed brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons molasses
- 2 1/2 cups Gold Medal™ all-purpose flour
- 2 1/4 teaspoons baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon kosher (coarse) salt
- 1 tablespoon ground ginger
- 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon
- 2 teaspoons ground cloves
- 1 1/2 teaspoons ground nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
- 2/3 cup granulated or coarse sugar

1. In large bowl, beat butter and brown sugar with electric mixer on medium speed until light and fluffy, about 5 minutes. Beat in egg and molasses. Stir in remaining ingredients except granulated sugar. Cover; refrigerate at least 2 hours.
2. Heat oven to 350°F. Line cookie sheets with cooking parchment paper or silicone baking mat. In small bowl, place granulated sugar. Shape dough into 1-inch balls; roll in sugar. On cookie sheets, place balls 2 inches apart.
3. Bake 8 to 10 minutes or just until set and soft in center. Cool 2 minutes; remove from cookie sheets to cooling racks. Store tightly covered up to 1 week.
